How we can help?

At Think Furniture, our approach to furniture procurement begins with a clear understanding of your organisation—its operations, values, and culture. This insight allows us to identify opportunities for improvement and ensure that our solutions align with your workplace needs.

Through a collaborative consultation process, we aim to:

- Review existing workflows and gain insight into company values and culture.
- Assess how these elements should influence the design of the new space, identifying which practices and furniture can be retained or improved.
- Work closely with the project team to develop a cohesive General Arrangement (GA) plan that supports both current and future workplace needs.
- Produce a tailored furniture ideas document, coordinate showroom visits and sample furniture procurement as required.
- Develop a comprehensive schedule that considers furniture costs, availability, and lead times.
- Consult with the client and project team to finalise the furniture schedule, ensuring alignment with budget and programme constraints.
- Oversee full furniture installation, managing quality control and resolving any issues promptly. We make sure one of us are on-site for any quick decision-making needed, ensuring quality work delivered in time.
- Provide a detailed O&M manual covering all manufacturers, product information, and care guidelines.
- Deliver post-installation (Day 2) support, including minor adjustments, additional requirements, and training on furniture use (e.g. chairs, monitor arms).
